

Jill's Blankets Individual Event Agreement

This Agreement is entered into by and between Jill's Blanket's, a Virginia nonprofit corporation, and _____ (the "Event Leader") for the purpose of hosting a Blanket Making Event (the "Event") on _____ and distributing blankets made at the Event. The above named Event Leader promises to (1) be responsible for the Event, (2) follow all Jill's Blankets guidelines for hosting the Event, and (3) be responsible for the distribution of blankets. Jill's Blankets promises to (1) provide labels, cards, and if necessary fleece, and (2) support for a successful event.

In hosting the Blanket Making Event, the above named Event Leader shall:

- _____ 1. Locate a facility to host the Event (generally a church, school, or home or anywhere with the space and large tables). Polar fleece is not suited for floor work as it picks up lint easily. Let us know place, date and time of your event.
  - _____ 2. Locate a cancer infusion center or health care facility providing chemotherapy treatment for distribution of the blankets (if your event is in Richmond, Virginia Jill's Blankets can provide a list of centers for distribution).
  - _____ 3. Find volunteers to participate in the Event as organizers, blanket makers and also help to distribute blankets.
  - _____ 4. Get fleece for the Event. Fundraising is encouraged to purchase fleece. Fleece can also be purchased individually as a "donation" to Jill's Blankets. Jill's Blankets is a 501(c)(3) with tax-exempt status. If you are unable to provide enough fleece or if you're interested in tax-exempt status, contact Jill's Blankets to see if some can be provided.
  - _____ 5. Provide Jill's Blankets with an address to mail (1) labels and (2) cards. The labels are sewn on each blanket. Cards that identify Jill's Blankets and its mission are also included with each blanket. (It is best to do this as soon as possible so they arrive in time for the event!).
  - _____ 6. Make blankets, have fun, and let us know if you want to host another event! Take photos and share with us for use on our Facebook page and website. Also, don't forget to fundraise at the event.
- This Agreement is intended for the hosting of one Event only. If an additional event is planned please contact Jill's Blankets so that we can inform you of any changes and provide additional materials.
